| engraving in a newspaper of the time "Staff officers of the Victorian Volunteer Force" showing Major Pitt, iv) modern copy of a photograph of Major Dean Pitt, v) photocopy of a painting of Dean Pitt as a youth, vi) photograph of a painting of General Dean Pitt (Senior), vii) original copy of Victoria 1861 Parliamentary Paper. Resignation of Colonel Pitt, viii) photocopies of a number of newspaper and book entries concerning Dean Pitt. Biography: Born 14.01.1823, Son of Major General George Dean Pitt, Married Louisa Jones (daughter of Sir Horace David Chlowell) 22.11.1842, 2nd Lieutenant 11.10.1839, Lieutenant 19.01.1849, Captain 04.05.1849, Major 09.03.1861, Lieutenant Colonel 21.03.1865, Colonel 21.03.1870, Major General 07.06.1880, Lieutenant General 30.08.1882, Invested as a Companion, Order of the Bath (C.B.), Keeper of Jewels at the Tower of London from 25.08.1882 to his death, died at the Tower of London 04.04.1883, Dean Pitt raised, trained and organised the Victorian volunteer forces in 1859 and for those services he was thanked by H.M. Government. In 1863 he was commissioned by the Colonial Government to raise a local corps to aid the Imperial troops in New Zealand and in a very short space of time he succeeded in mustering upward of 2,000 men. The First Waikato Regiment was known as "Pitt's Four Hundred". A most important sword dating from the earliest raising of volunteer units in this country, and related to the first overseas military action. Of exceptionally fine quality, this sword is, without doubt, the finest Australian presentation sword. | 509           | High quality mid 19th century Indian kard with scabbard, originally part of the armoury of Badhanware, approx 38cm overall with approx 25cm blade of the finest watered steel of the Mohammed's ladder pattern. The ricasso and tang with fine gold koftgari floral decoration, ivory grip scales with silver rosettes. The scabbard of silver finely pierced with floral motifs. With it's original woven retaining cord and red cloth storage bag. | $6,000   |         |
|  |               | 510  | High quality and rare mid 19th century Indian pesh kabs with scabbard, originally part of the armoury of Badhanwara, approx 31cm overall with approx 20cm slightly recurved blade of T section made of superb chevron watered steel (this is produced by forge welding together pre shaped billets of alternate watered steel and mild steel). The ricasso and tang with overall floral designs in gold. Ivory grip scales. Red velvet covered scabbard with pierced and gilded mounts, With it's original woven retaining cord.  | $4,400 |
|  |               | 511  | Fine old Turkish sword shamshir with scabbard of mid 19th century date, approx 90cm overall with approx 76cm curved single edged blade of shamshir form fine watered steel with a talisman and a cartouche of Arabic text in gold on one face. Horn grip scales retaining the original woven silver cloth tape and woven wrist strap. The cross guard and scabbard mounts of gilt silver bearing maker's stamps. The curvature of the blade requires the scabbard to have an open back for it's top 17cm, this opening has a steel spring and a hinged en suite gilt silver cover that engages the underside of the cross guard. When suspended this sword is balanced so that it will turn edge upwards as is correct. | $4,800 |
